

Dear students,

as Director of the Dep.t of Civil Engineering and Architecture (DICAR), I would like to welcome you all to this second semester of classes.

As everywhere in world, right now we all are facing an emergency in many ways complicated to manage, but myself and all the faculty are working for a smooth academic life for everybody, as usual.

We all are going through hard times, but we are confident we will make it through as long as we all follow the policies and practices based on the concept of social distancing, in order to help mitigate the growing risk of transmission.

I would like to assure you we are striving to help you all to properly manage the VIRTUAL CLASSES, EXAMS, MEETINGS, as well as everything else that is needed for you to complete your study abroad as it was supposed to be.

The whole DICAR is trying to do its best to still make the whole Erasmus experience as a great opportunity for your lives.
